Beiseker Resident Marries Calgary Girl

BEISEKER—A pretty wedding took place in the SDA church of this district when Miss Ruth Sell and Richard Huether were united in marriage. Ruth Sell is the daughter of Mrs. Emma Sell of Calgary and Richard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Reinhold Huether of Beiseker.

The church was nicely decorated with baskets of autumn flowers and pine boughs. The service was conducted by Pastor C. C. Voth of Calgary. The bride was given in marriage by her brother Hermann, also of Calgary.

The bride chose to wear an ankle length satin gown. The veil of illusion net was caught to a close-fitting headdress of organdy, direct from Germany, and she carried a bouquet of red roses and white chrysanthemums.

Tones of blue, orchid, yellow and green were worn by the bridesmaid, Miss Christa Sell, and matrons of honor, Mrs. Vernon Kaiser, Mrs. Ervin Dalke and Phyllis Littman. Each carried a contrasting bouquet of carnations and chrysanthemums.

The groom was attended by Bert Froman of B.C., Verne Kaiser of Calgary, Ervin Dalke, Bill Huether, all of Calgary.

Loanne Suelzle was flower girl wearing a yellow organdy frock, and carried a basket of harmonizing chrysanthemums. Douglas Dick was Bible boy.

Mrs. John Kaiser was pianist, Mrs. Leinweber sang O Promise Me, and Bob Koronko of College Heights sang The Lord's Prayer.

For travelling the bride wore a blue suit with black accessories.

The couple will reside in the Level Land district, near Beiseker.

Reception followed immediately in the Beiseker Hall. A good program took place. John Leiske was master of ceremonies. After the program a delicious wedding luncheon was served in the basement. The toast was given to the bride by Mr. John Leiske. The groom responded to the toast.

Guests outside of this district were from Leduc, Millet, Lacombe, Calgary, Walla Walla, Wash.

HER GIFT

I have no gifts, she often said, Although she never tired Of doing loving little things, For folks she most admired.

She cheered the sad and lonely, With friendship's kindly ray, And many a burdened heart, She eased along its way.

She gladly gave her willing hands, And held her heart out, too, For nothing was too great or small For others she could do.

She always said, "I wasn't there When gifts were passed around." But examples of her kindness On every hand you found.

And up in Heaven she will find Her gift was great—of being kind.

Pretty Bridal Ceremony

LEVELAND—A beautiful wedding was solemnized at the Rosebud Seventh-day Adventist church Sunday evening, November 23, when Della Huether of Carbon, daughter of Albert Huether, became the wife of Joe Trenchuk of Edmonton.

The church was decorated very attractively with autumn leaves, weaved in and out of a trellis work archway.

The bride appeared most gorgeous in her gown of satin with lace trimming. She wore the traditional lily point sleeve of lace, and the lace insertion in the skirt and down through the train made it most beautiful. She carried an orchid upon a white Bible. Her attendants wore mauve, mauve, green and yellow, respectively.

Pastor G. Taylor, president of Alberta Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, officiated at the ceremony. Pianist was Larry Leiske, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Leiske. Special music was rendered by Lucy Saylor, sister of the groom. All were beautifully presented.

The reception took place at the Beiseker Memorial Hall. Mr. John Leiske, master of ceremonies, conducted an interesting program which contained good variety. After the program the bride and groom were congratulated before each took their place at a table to be served a delicious lunch.

The gifts to the newlyweds were many and varied. The groom's response to the toast to the bride, and the bride's speech made known the many thanks for all gifts received and the willing help of their many friends.

Della and Joe went south for their honeymoon and upon their return will reside in Edmonton. Best wishes from all to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Trenchuk.

Time To Think About Seed

Harvesting is over and now is the time for the farmer to think about the seed he will use to sow his crops this coming spring. Every farmer, I suggest, would be well advised to follow the practice now adopted by so many, of planting a Seed Field on his farm. This can be done by making arrangements to purchase a few bushels of the best seed obtainable of wheat, oats, barley or flax, and by sowing this on a field of clean summerfallow.

The yield from such a Seed Field would give sufficient seed next year to sow 16 to 20 times the acreage. Registered Seed is the very best obtainable; it is true-to-variety to a high standard of excellence, is of high germination and practically free from adulterants.

The use of Registered Seed results in higher yields and a higher quality crop. Farmers desirous of purchasing Registered Seed should place their orders as early as possible this fall. Then they will have the first choice of the best seed available.

Damage From 2,4-D

Wheat crops sprayed with 2,4-D herbicide by airplanes have been seriously damaged according to reports from Drumheller and Dalemead. Many of the heads were only half filled. Provincial and dominion pathologists are investigating.

No damage was done to wheat on the same farms which was treated with ground sprayers. It is believed that the oil used in the spray from the airplane might have been responsible for the damage. Ground spraying machines use water mixed with the 2,4-D.

You Should Relax

Most people don't relax enough. They work, eat and live at high tension, hurrying more than is necessary or good for their health. Their blood pressure is raised, the pulse rate accelerated and the temperature elevated. Such strain wears out the body's organs sooner than necessary. The most common results of undue and prolonged stress are high blood pressure, dyspepsia, nervous indigestion and fatigue. Living normally, eating wisely and having sufficient rest will help to prevent many of the ailments that accompany middle age and later years. By relaxing—and it isn't necessary to have equipment, special time or training, since you can actually relax mind and muscles for a few minutes at any time—you give your body some release from the tensions of work.

Note and Comment

A winner never quits and a quitter never wins.

The 1951 census reported Alberta's population at 939,501. As the provincial area is 255,285 square miles the population density is 3.68 persons per square mile.

Henry Young, president of the Alberta Farmers' Union, says the reduction on hog prices to $23.00 on January 1, 1953, will bring the value of a hog down to $30.00, which is about the cost of production. He suggests farmers should cut production.

The Wall Street Journal recently stated in reference to Canada's big wheat crop—"A lot of that mountain of grain can be expected to land in the taxpayers' lap via government price support." The Calgary Albertan points out that the Wall Street Journal is wrong. Wheat has cost the Canadian taxpayer nothing for many years.

The United States will make about 50 million bushels of wheat available to Pakistan this year, probably through finances of its Technical Co-operation Administration. Pakistan normally imports some wheat but will require more than normal this year because its crop has been severely damaged by drought.

Insurance --- To Churchgoers

Only

An insurance company in Texas is experimenting with a plan of issuing insurance policies to church members and those who practice abstinence from alcohol. The company has attracted considerable attention in recent days because of this novel plan, with more than 1,000 policies already sold.

The Christian and Temperate Insurance Company, which received its charter in June, is the brainchild of two brothers, members of different churches, who say their policy is the result of two years of planning and studying automobile fatality records.

From their study, they arrived at a plan to offer insurance to church members and non-drinkers at reduced rates—since people in these classifications have fewer accidents than non-church members and those who do not practice abstinence. This plan warrants serious thought, since it offers a reward to those groups who are involved in few accidents.

It has often been suggested that insurance be sold on the basis of one's driving record. That is, an applicant who had driven for 20 or 30 years without an accident would receive a low insurance rate, while the habitually careless driver would be required to pay higher insurance rates. This system would reward good drivers and require inferior and careless drivers to pay more of the cost of their accidents.

As it is, good drivers are usually required to pay just as much for insurance as poor drivers, who regularly are involved in accidents, and the steady rise in automobile insurance rates has brought about complaints from careful drivers.

While the Christian and Temperate Insurance Company, in Texas, might be drawing the line of qualification rather tightly, the motive behind their plan is sound and it will be interesting to see how cheaply they are able to sell automobile insurance and still make a reasonable profit.

ONE MAN'S VIEWPOINT

The Community Paper

By STAN ROSS

As one travels about the province of Alberta it is amazing to find the number of local community papers which are being published, but it is not always quite so clear that these local papers are being appreciated in the way that they should be appreciated. Possibly it's the old case of taking what you have for granted. Sometimes it's a mistaken notion that because a paper is smaller, or because it only publishes once a week, that it can't be as valuable as a daily edition.

It's true that a weekly paper can't provide daily news. It's also true that the radio reaches every community with news and factual material in a way which no newspaper can possibly do. But it is equally true that the community newspapers are the only means for circulating news, community projects and community ideas, and those things are more valuable than many people seem to think.

Actually you might obtain all the world news and ideas there are, but you'd still have poor communities if there was no method for stirring up community thought and interest concerning community matters. You could also be cut off from every item of world news and still you could have the best of communities if you possessed a good local newspaper—and that's the function your town weekly will fill if it is given a chance.

Look at it another way. It's all very well for you people outside of Edmonton to hear our ideas about everything, but after all each community needs to know about a few of its own ideas—and a weekly editor is the only one in a position to reflect the local ideas about many things. He's in touch with his own district. He knows its needs and the local feelings which may differ from district to district. He's in the best position to whip up local opinion—and he's in the best position to fight the local battles.

In other words, these local weeklies aren't simply a printed sheet—they are an institution—as important as any other item in our community life, and as such should be recognized and used—and supported.

Woman Files $45,000 Claim

EDMONTON—A statement of claim for $45,000 was filed Wednesday by a woman claiming damages as a result of the Leduc Hotel explosion which took 10 lives November 11, 1950.

The claim brings to more than $200,000 the damages asked in suits arising from the blast which will be heard by the Supreme Court during January.

Wednesday's claimant, Hertha Hubner, a dishwasher at the hotel, was one of about 16 persons injured in the blast. Her action is against Wilfred J. Gray, chief engineer for Leduc Utilities Ltd., Reginald M. Rault, Edmonton plumber, and Frederick Takarek, Leduc laborer.

All the pending claims allege that natural gas was seeping into the hotel from an unfinished gas system being installed in Leduc. It is expected the hearings will last three or four weeks. Most of the claims also list Leduc Utilities and the contracting firm of Wilson and Wilson as defendants.

Progress In Fight Against Bacterial Ring Rot

One Alberta potato area freed from ring rot and promising progress in two of the remaining three is the story behind the ring rot survey report this fall.

Calgary was the area in which the inspectors failed to find a single ring rot infested field. W. Lobay, Supervisor of Crop Protection, Alberta Department of Agriculture, advises that this is the first time that any ring rot infested area in the province has been cleaned up since the survey and inspection service started some fifteen years ago.

In the Brooks district only five acres were found with a trace of ring rot out of 1100 acres inspected, Mr. Lobay reports. If the improvement of the past few years continues, he says, the Brooks district may next year be the first major potato producing area in Alberta to be freed from the ring rot pest. Progress in the Edmonton area has been satisfactory, although not quite so striking as in the Brooks and Calgary districts.

Lethbridge is the only area this year in which the incidence of ring rot has not been reduced. Although there were fewer heavily infested fields than last year, more fields containing a slight trace of ring rot were found. This condition, says Mr. Lobay can be attributed to shortage of good seed last spring, which resulted in the planting of some inferior local and imported stocks. Potato growers, he says, should be aware that freeing the Alberta potato areas of ring rot will add to the export demand for Alberta stocks. That good quality potatoes can be produced in Alberta is a fact well known to the trade.

LETTERS TO LOUISA

Dear Louisa:

There are two young men who are in love with me and I like them both very much. In fact, I am perfectly happy when I am with either one of them. They have both asked me to marry them but I have not been able to decide. I really believe I would be happy with either one. I am twenty-one years old and think it is about time for me to make up my mind, don't you?

ANNABELLE.

Answer:

You are not truly in love with either of these young men, Anna-belle, if you like one as well as you do the other. My surmise is that you really like both of them very much as friends but that you aren't in love with either.

Wait a while and don't try to decide in a hurry. Twenty-one is not old, and perhaps the right man hasn't come along yet. It may be that after a while you will find that you do love one of these with whom you are now going.

Do not make up your mind until you feel that life won't be worth living if you can't have that particular young man as your husband.

Marriage is a sacred contract and should be considered a binding lifetime bond.

LOUISA.

A.M.A. Protests High Federal Car Taxes

EDMONTON—President H. R. Chauncey of Calgary claimed recently that the federal government collected $144,000,000 from car owners through tax levies in the past year. He suggested that the A.M.A. initiate strong representations to federal authorities to protest the "excessive" federal taxation of car owners.

My son's fifth birthday was approaching. In one of my weaker moments I asked him what he'd like for his birthday. Without any hesitation he shouted, "a bicycle." Knowing that he was far too young for a bicycle I purchased him a tricycle. (Incidentally he had had one before). On his birthday he didn't seem to be disappointed with his present, so I thought that he had forgotten all about the bicycle.

It was hours later when he was sitting by the tricycle by himself that I overheard him say: "Gee whiz! Imagine a big man like daddy not knowing the difference between a bicycle and a tricycle." W. M. Gryshook.

Derwent, Alta.

Noting an unusual curio cabinet at my mother-in-law's, I remarked upon its great beauty and how I wished that I had one like it. "Oh," she replied, "I'll leave it to you when I die." "Oh, how wonderful!" I exclaimed unthinkingly, "I can hardly wait!" A. I. M.

Take an interest in the future. That's where you'll spend the rest of your life.

Cattlemen More Than Pleased With Embargo Lifting By United States

OTTAWA — Canada's multi-million dollar cattle industry was heartened with the sudden news that the United States would lift its cattle embargo on March first.

The news came as a surprise to Canadian Agricultural officials, and it took a number of telephone calls to Stanley Woodward, the United States ambassador, to assure federal officials that the United States were quite serious about the embargo lift.

Even after the phone calls Dr. J. G. Taggart, the Deputy Minister of Agriculture, would not comment. Agriculture Minister Gardiner would not comment either.

even after he was read a despatch carrying the announcement.

In Edmonton Alberta Minister of Agriculture said: "There won't be a livestock man in the whole of Canada who won't be pleased to hear the news."

The president of the Winnipeg Livestock Exchange said the lifting of the embargo will benefit both producer and consumer.

Why the Washington announcement came as a surprise to Canadian officials is not known, for the two countries usually work closely on economic matters. Canadian embassy officials in Washington were informed before the press statement was made, and apparently this press report reached Ottawa first.

Dominion Agriculture officials have been pessimistic of any move made until the Republican administration took over in January. Canadian farms are loaded with livestock, and the Canadian government has taken big losses with its price support program, which it plans to maintain until the embargo is lifted.

Lifting of the embargo will end the upheaval caused by the outbreak of hoof-and-mouth disease in Saskatchewan in February in 1951. In August of this year Canada was declared free from the disease.

How The Town Received Its Name BARONS

The village of Barons is the headquarters of the M.D. of Barons which covers an area of 340,000 acres of land. The area was settled in 1907 by homesteaders, but the big rush of settlers came in 1909 when the railway was being put up through Kipp. The following year saw the opening of the railroad between Lethbridge and Carmangay.

Barons is located some 30 miles north-west of Lethbridge,

BANG'S DISEASE OF CATTLE

No. 6 in a series by Dr. E. A. Ballantyne, Director of Veterinary Services, Alberta Department of Agriculture.

Every cattleman should know how Bang's Disease is spread, because if it is introduced into a clean herd he may lose practically a whole calf crop. Losing even 10 calves will mean at least $3,000 less in income two years later at present day prices. Very few cattleman can stand a loss like that. But it can happen and has happened in Alberta. In fact, one cattleman estimated that his income was $15,000 less a couple of years ago on account of Bang's Disease in his herd.

Bang's disease is usually "bought and paid for." That is, it is usually introduced into a herd by buying a diseased animal. This can be prevented by having herd additions blood tested first by your veterinarian. After the purchase of a Bang's infected animal, the disease over a period of several months usually spreads through the herd causing many abortions. Not every cow or heifer will necessarily lose its calf, because some seem to have a natural resistance. Abortion storms in which a high percentage of cows lose calves are fairly common. The dangerous period is when an infected cow aborts, because the fluids, premature calf and afterbirth are loaded with Bang's disease bacteria. Other cows or heifers licking or eating this can become infected. This is why cows at calving time should be put in a box stall so that if the cow is infected others will not have a chance to pick up the bacteria. The afterbirth, premature calf, bedding, etc., should be buried deeply or burnt so that other cows cannot eat it. When the cow is taken out in two or three weeks the box stall should be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected. An infected bull will spread the disease occasionally, but very seldom. It is spread mainly as explained above.

Your veterinarian is trained in Bang's disease diagnosis, prevention and control, so please consult him when premature calves are born. An ounce of prevention is still worth a pound of cure. REMEMBER, too, that Bang's disease causes undulant fever in humans. Contact him to vaccinate your calves or list them with your District Agriculturist or Agriculture Service Board.

The Alberta Department of Agriculture recommends calfhood vaccination coupled with good herd management as an economical and practical way to prevent and control the disease. The co-operation of all cattlemen will be greatly appreciated in building up Bang's resistant herds by having all heifer calves vaccinated this fall.

Is Your Seed True-To-Variety

Each year, during the last 12 years (1941-52), the Line Elevators Farm Service field-tested hundreds of farmers' seed stocks of wheat and barley to find out if they were "true" or "pure" to variety. The results obtained in 1951 and 1952 are shown in the following table:

| Crop and year seed sown | Seed samples tested | Percentage of samples | |
|-------------------------------|---------------------------|----------------------------|------------------------------|
| | | "Pure" as to variety | "Impure" as to variety |
| WHEAT | | | |
| 1951 | 1,778 | 84.8 | 15.2 |
| 1952 | 1,446 | 84.2 | 15.8 |
| BARLEY | | | |
| 1951 | 453 | 73.0 | 27.0 |
| 1952 | 445 | 72.8 | 27.2 |

These figures show that 15% and 27% of the seed stocks of wheat and barley, respectively, held by prairie farmers for planting in 1951 and 1952 were not satisfactorily true-to-variety. As a matter of fact, over one-half of the seed samples listed as "Impure" in the above table were very badly mixed as to variety. When grown, they produced a high percentage of foreign, inferior and off-type plants.

Planting seed-grain of mixed varieties and kinds results in uneven ripening, lower yields and poorer grades. On the other hand, by using seed which is true-to-variety, prairie grain growers can assure themselves of a crop of the highest possible yield and quality.

Is your seed true-to-variety? If not, it will pay you to exchange it for some "pure" seed and by far the best bet is Registered seed. Large quantities of Registered seed are available this year, and prices are reasonable. Any elevator agent will take your order for Registered seed.

America's Skating Sensation To Star In Canadian Show

Headlining the production, Canadian Ice Fantasy of '53, is Toronto-born Gloria Dawn, who is currently America's skating sensation. Miss Dawn has made her home in Los Angeles in recent years, from which point she received her athletic training.

At the age of nine, Miss Dawn had set her heart on becoming an Olympic swimmer, but with the appearance of Sonja Henie at the Hollywood Ice Palace, quickly changed her swimming suit for the blades and since then "Dawn and skates" have been synonymous.

Due to the influence of musical parents, her father having been a Toronto Symphony conductor and her mother his pianist, Gloria was also keenly interested in dancing and specialized in ballet.

Although she studied swimming and dancing as well as figure skating, her teachers immediately recognized Gloria's distinctive skating style and encouraged her to study skating showmanship. Quickly turning pro, she joined the glittering Sonja Henie show, where she rapidly rose to the top.

Having recently completed a two-year tour of North and South America, the star of Canadian Ice Fantasy of '53 is completing a television show in Los Angeles in time to appear in Killam on Tuesday, December 9.

Step By Step

Of all the equipment that can be purchased for the farm none can be better justified than a water system. C. A. Cheshire, Extension Agricultural Engineer, Alberta Department of Agriculture, suggests that those who have been postponing installation because of cost should remember that they do not need to put in all the units at once. A start can be made with a pump and a single cold water tap in the kitchen. This will mean a greater saving of labor, and the other units can be added to the system step by step.

At the same time as the water system is being developed the disposal system can also be built up. A drain from the kitchen sink can by-pass the position where the septic tank will later be, but it must be joined to the permanent disposal field. Possibly the second step here would be the installation of the soil stack. Finally, the septic tank itself would be installed, connected to the soil stack and disposal field, and the disposal field increased in size to meet the household requirements.

This whole development program, says Mr. Cheshire, can take place over two or three or more years. While it is true that this step by step method of installing the system is more costly than making the complete installation at one time, it does allow many of the advantages of both water and sewage without too high an initial expenditure. Those interested in installing a farm water and sewage system are advised to discuss the matter with their district agriculturist, or write to the Extension Agricultural Engineer, Alberta Department of Agriculture, Edmonton.
